

INVITATION

The European Academy of Sciences and Arts and the European Institute of Health

invite you to our working lunch on:

“Harmonizing cross border Health Care in European Regions”

The European Union achieved a great progress in establishing European Regions, the Schengen treaty and the Euro. Additionally there has been a stimulus to propel cross border medicine. Those achievements are leading to establish Cross Border Health Care and Delivery in the European Regions between two member states. The most challenging fact is reimbursing medical provisions. This is a new chance establishing a cross border medicine, where all possibilities can be used, as medical services in all forms and to have a proper large group of patients which is at present not given. Additionally is the chance to finance common projects as hospitals in form of new Regional hospitals. In overall there is an upcoming chance developing new concepts in health care, where the potentials of two nations can be concentrated in the region. The European Institute of Health proposes a Harmonizer who should harmonize care and concepts in building new institutions and hospitals.
