

MEMBERSHIP CRITERIA

The primary criterion for membership is sustained academic excellence in a specific field. This does not necessarily apply to class III (Arts), class VII (World Religions) and class VIII (Corporate and Public Governance), see criteria below. A candidate must in any case be able to think interdisciplinary and contribute to the mission and vision of the Academy. EASA wants to elect scientists, scholars and experts of international distinction, irrespective of nationality, gender, location or discipline.

Criteria for election

1) Ordinary members in any scientific class

- Full or part-time (visiting) professors (provided the university procedure of nomination is similar for both),
- PH.D. or equivalent,
- Publications: min. two own or co-edited books, min. two peer reviewed articles or book chapters, or equivalent.

2) Ordinary members in the artist class

- Visual arts: art academy degree, solo exhibitions in at least three different (public) museums in at least three different European countries, or at least two international biennales + at least one published monograph about their work
- Architecture: university degree, at least one published monograph + public buildings in at least three different countries, and one architectural prize
- Music: music academy degree, work performed at min. one European festival + at min. three different places in three different countries, at least one national musical distinction
- Literature: university degree, at least one national literary prize and three books translated in three other languages

3) Ordinary members in world religions class

- Similar criteria as for any scientific class
- Leading position and/or outstanding achievements in inter-religious and/or intercultural dialogue

4) Ordinary members in corporate and public governance class

- University degree or similar + outstanding performance at corporate top management or Board level in developing public value, innovation of governance and/or strategy in view of the Common Good;
- University degree or similar + outstanding performance, in elected or non-elected position in developing science based, inclusive policies for the Common Good, strengthening European cooperation, or contributing to a specific tolerance issue or important social improvement process, multi-party recognition.